

Bio

Colette Carlson, a human behavior expert and CPAE Hall of Fame keynote speaker, is acclaimed for her transformative approach to igniting trust, engagement and unrivaled performance through intentional, impactful communication and purposeful connections. With her unparalleled energy, humor, engaging interaction, and extensive customization, Colette captivates audiences and inspires them to prioritize the skills essential for success in today's modern, changing world.

Since founding her company, Speak Your Truth, Inc., Colette has delivered hundreds of customized keynote programs across five continents, grounded in extensive interviews with leaders, sales professionals, and frontline employees across diverse industries. Colette's trusted clientele includes industry giants like Microsoft, Pepsi, FedEx, Exxon Mobil, Costco, Procter & Gamble, Fidelity, and Domino's.

With a Master's Degree in Human Behavior and more than 20 years of experience, Colette empowers individuals to prioritize influential communication to foster collaboration, navigate change, and build resilience. Her research-backed strategies and actionable guidance are designed to enhance human interactions and ultimately drive remarkable business outcomes.

Colette is a Certified Speaking Professional (CSP), a designation held by fewer than 10% of the members belonging to the International Federation for Professional Speakers. She was also inducted into the CPAE Speaker Hall of Fame, a recognition that honors professional speakers who have reached the top echelon of career excellence.

Attendees leave Colette's programs feeling more inspired and equipped with an abundance of tangible strategies and actionable guidance to cultivate the connections and communication skills that are the catalyst for personal and professional growth in today's rapidly evolving landscape. Learn more at www.ColetteCarlson.com